

Abstract of the Disclosure

5 An inorganic particle, to which is bonded a cell binding component and a nucleic acid, is provided for delivery of a nucleic acid to a cell. The disclosed particle acts as a synthetic vector for achieving efficient transfection of associated nucleic acid into a cell.